

Who are we?

Promusicsoftware

Promusicsoftware was born from direct experience in the world of music, technology, and software applied to everyday musical practice. The goal is simple and concrete: to create useful, reliable digital tools truly designed for musicians, avoiding solutions that are unnecessarily complex or distant from the real needs of those who play, study, and work with music every day.

Our vision

We believe that technology should support creativity, not hinder it. For this reason, Promusicsoftware develops applications and solutions that focus on:
ease of use;
respect for the musician's workflow;
user autonomy, even offline.
Every project arises from a real need, tested in the field and improved over time.

What we do

Promusicsoftware deals with:

- music software development;
- applications and PWAs dedicated to musicians and industry professionals;
- AI-enabled musical instruments

solutions designed for studios, stages and teaching.
The applications are designed to be stable, lightweight and practical, with particular attention to the user experience on mobile devices and tablets.

Our approach

Promusicsoftware adopts an independent and quality-oriented approach:
no unnecessary dependence on external services;
direct control of data by the user;
attention to privacy and local use of information;
targeted, non-invasive updates.
Each function is introduced only if it has a real value.

Why we do it

Because music deserves instruments that are worthy of it.
And because those who play need to rely on software that works, without distractions, without complications and without unnecessary compromises.
Promusicsoftware was born for this:
to combine music and technology in an intelligent, concrete and human way.
